Gov. Jerry Brown Signs $122B budget

Governor Jerry Brown signed a state budget on June 27th. A portion of California’s surplus revenue will be use to boost assistance for the poor and send more money to universities, but keeps other new ongoing spending commitments to a minimum.

The Governor did not use his line-item veto authority to erase any specific budget items. Leaving the budget the Legislature approved intact for the first time since 1982, when Brown was in his first spin as governor. It’s the fourth time since 1966 that a governor has declined to veto a portion of the budget, with vetoes sometimes reaching well over $1 billion.

The $171-billion spending plan increases funding for state-subsidized child care and removes a limit on welfare payments for families who have additional children while receiving benefits.

It also boosts the state’s reserves, depositing an extra $2 billion into a rainy-day fund intended as a cushion against any future economic downturns.

This budget includes $71.9 billion for K-12 schools and community colleges, which is the highest amount sent to schools under the state’s minimum funding guarantee. Per student spending in K-12 schools increased to $10,643, which is up $3,600 since 2011-12.

The state will spend $3.6 billion in state and federal money toward affordable housing and homelessness programs. Included is $400 million, Assembly Democrats sought for affordable housing programs. That money will be set aside until the Legislature and Brown reach a deal on the governor’s call for streamlining development projects. Brown wants to streamline the review process for housing proposals that meet a city’s zoning requirements. Legislation has been opposed by unions and other groups that say it side-steps the state’s environmental laws.

CHAMBER RECOGNIZES LOCAL LEADERS AT ANNUAL COMMUNITY AWARDS DINNER

The Redondo Beach Chamber of Commerce held their annual “Installation of Directors and Community Awards” dinner Friday, June 24, 2016 at the Crowne Plaza Redondo Beach & Marina Hotel, recognizing local leaders in the areas of community and business. Man and Woman of the Year, City Employee of the Year, and Ambassador of the Year.

MAN OF THE YEAR

The Man of the Year award went to former Redondo Beach Mayor Mike Gin. Mike has a long history of community service. He was a member of the Redondo Beach Historical Society in the late 80’s and worked on the Morrell House restoration project when it first arrived and was being restored by the Redondo Beach Historical Society. He served as Chairman of the Redondo Preservation Commission 1989 and as Vice Chairman of the Planning Commission 1992. He was also a very active member of the Redondo Beach Jaycee’s in their heyday whereby, he was elected “Young Man of the Year in 1992”! After serving for eight years as a City Council member, Mike Gin was elected Mayor of Redondo Beach in 2005 and re-elected in 2009. He built partnerships with city management, as well as employee unions to keep Redondo’s budget balanced during the country’s recession.

WOMAN OF THE YEAR

The Woman of the Year went to Commissioner Vicki Callahan. She is a native Californian, born in Inglewood, CA, lived in Torrance on Bindewald, then Manhattan, Hermosa and Redondo. A real South Bay girl. Her Parents were original house flippers. They would buy a house early in the year and spend each summer rebuilding the house, then they would sell it and buy another one. She attended several South Bay schools; Hawthorne Christian School for grade school, Penecamp in MB and Mira Costa High School. Vicki attended El Camino College. She met her second husband in 1970. Vicki went to USC for a Masters in Fine Arts and Architecture. And earned her teaching credential and taught for a year at Manual Arts High School. Vicki has traveled to South America and Peru for an entire month. Honeymooned in Singapore, Hong Kong, Bangkok and mainland China. She has also done boat charters in the Caribbean and Mexico, and went through the Panama Canal to the Caribbean. She has made three trips to China with the Sister Cities Program and Mayor Mike Gin. She also cruised around the seas of Australia, Hawaii, Florida, Canada, Mexico, and several other spots.
CHAMBER AMBASSADOR OF THE YEAR

The Chamber Ambassador of the Year award was presented to Mark Applegate, owner of Mark Applegate Insurance. Mark joined the Chamber in 1997, as an ambassador Mark has been involved with the membership committee.

Mark has a beautiful wife, Maria, two children. He is involved with the Boy Scouts as an Assistant Scout Master for his son’s Scout Troop 718. He volunteers with the Angeles National Forest Service where he does trail restoration work and holds a Class B Sawyer (chainsaw) Certification. In addition, he’s a volunteer for the Fisheries Resource Volunteer Corp (FRVC) doing mountain stream patrols and restoration projects, he’s also Past Vice President of the Board of Directors for RSVP (Retired Senior Volunteer Program, and Past member of the council for the Torrance YMCA Parent Child Program. In his spare time, he enjoys: hiking, camping, off-roading in his Jeep Wrangler, shooting and motorcycle riding, and of course, just spending time with family and friends. Also riding, and of course, just spending time with family and friends.

CITY EMPLOYEE OF THE YEAR

This year’s City Employee of the Year is Mike Klein, Deputy Director of Public Works Department. Mike began working in Redondo Beach in October 2006. During his first six years in Redondo Beach our awardee managed maintenance operations for the City’s 63 buildings and structures. In 2013 he took on the responsibility for maintenance of the Pier and Harbor areas, including the parking structures, boat basins, City-owned buildings, restrooms and the Seaside Lagoon facility. In 2014 he was appointed Deputy Public Works Director on an interim basis and began overseeing all City maintenance operations, including streets, sewers, parks and fleet. In November 2015 he was permanently promoted to the Deputy Director position. Over the years, he has been among the “first on the scene” with major and minor events such as, 2011 when the harbor was filled with millions of dead sardines, storm watch, inoperable “first on the scene” with major and minor events such as, 2011 when the harbor was filled with millions of dead sardines, storm watch, inoperable

Chamber Opposes Major Job Killer Bills

During the 2016 legislative cycle the Redondo Beach Government Relations Council has taken positions on 51 pieces of legislation. Six of those bills were considered major job killers because of the negative impact they would have on our employment climate and economic recovery if they were to become law. The Redondo Beach Chamber of Commerce worked closely with our coalition partners in opposing these pieces of legislation.

ARBITRATION DISCRIMINATION

AB 2667 (Thurmond; D-Richmond) Consumer Arbitration Agreement Discrimination — Unfairly discriminates against arbitration agreements and therefore is likely preempted by the Federal Arbitration Act, which will lead to confusion and litigation, by prohibiting arbitration of Unruh Civil Rights violations made as a condition of a consumer contract for goods or services. Fell short of votes needed to pass Assembly, 06/2/16. Missed House of Origin deadline.

AFFORDABLE HOUSING BARRIERS

AB 2502 (Mullin; D-South San Francisco/Chiu; D-San Francisco) Erodes Housing Affordability — Increases the cost and reduces the supply of housing by authorizing local governments as condition of development to impose a costly and inflexible price-controlled inclusionary housing requirement and, in doing so, legislatively repeals an established court decision upholding developers’ ability to set initial rental rates for new dwelling units. Job killer tag removed as a result of June 2 amendments, which clarify that the terms of the bill do not apply to for sale housing. CalChamber remains opposed.

SB 1318 (Wolk; D-Davis) Erodes Housing Affordability — Inappropriately leverages necessary affordable housing in order to solve infrastructure issues with the consequence that the Summer is here! Who doesn’t want to be outside, sunbathing, swimming, playing outdoors or even barbecuing in the backyard? While summer means fun in the sun, make sure you’re not getting too much of a good thing.

Dr. Gary Chuang of UCLA says “Using sunscreen is vital to the prevention of skin damage and skin cancers. Build a habit of wearing sunscreen by choosing one that will be easy for you to use every day.”

HERE ARE MORE TIPS FROM DR. CHUANG:

SUNSCREEN IS NOT JUST FOR SUNNY DAYS
- SPF 30+ sunscreen should be worn every day, even if the sun is not shining. Clouds only block 20-30% of UV rays.
- What does SPF mean?
- Sun Protection Factor is an estimate of how well the sunscreen will protect your skin from burning. The higher the number the better.

PROTECTIVE CLOTHING
- Use proper clothing, umbrellas and shade to keep out of direct sunlight. Add protection by wearing a long-sleeved shirt, pants, a wide-brimmed hat and sunglasses.

IF YOU LOVE OUTDOOR ACTIVITIES
- Use a water-resistant broad spectrum UVA/UVB sunscreen with SPF of 30+. Reapply every two hours or immediately after being in the water.

THE 10-2 RULE
- Even when you follow precautions, it is best to limit time in the sun between the hours of 10 am and 2 pm.

AVOID TANNING BEDS

VISIT A DOCTOR
- If you see any sudden or unusual skin change be sure to visit your dermatologist.

As Dr. Chuang says, “Wearing sunscreen is much like wearing seatbelts in a car. Once you get in a habit of wearing it, you will feel strange walking out into the sun without protection.”

Dr. Chuang is a board-certified dermatologist and a fellowship-trained Mohs surgeon at UCLA-Redondo Beach office located at 514 N. Prospect Avenue. www.Uclahealth.org/redondobeach
Redondo Beach, one of the beautiful sister seaside destinations that makes up Southern California’s South Bay, will be hosting the 21st annual Redondo Beach Lobster Festival at Seaside Lagoon (200 Portofino Way at the corner of Harbor Drive and Beryl Street) just north of Redondo Beach Pier from September 23-25, 2016.

The festival, goes from 6:00 p.m. to 11 p.m. Friday, 12:00 noon to 11:00 p.m. Saturday, and 12:00 noon to 8:00 p.m. Sunday provides attendees can enjoy delicious Maine Lobster dishes and Grammy-nominated bands. Along with family-friendly activities like stand up paddle boarding lessons and a “Kiddie Area” which includes face painting, balloon art, and more. General admission to the three-day food and music event starts at $15 for adults (online), $20 for adults (at the door) and $5 for children per day, or $35 for a three-day pass for adults online only. The Chamber Reminds You That New Laws Are Going Into Effect July 1: Paid Sick Leave Anniversary and More

July 1 marks the one-year anniversary of the day California employers had to begin providing the paid sick leave (PSL) benefit to employees. In addition, a number of local minimum wage increases take effect.

To highlight several less-known aspects of the PSL benefit and provide practical tips to follow, the California Chamber of Commerce has released a white paper, “10 Things Businesses Might Not Know About California’s Paid Sick Leave Law.”

See the white paper and catch up on local minimum wage increases and paid sick leave ordinances at HRCalifornia.com.

Everyone Benefits from The Waterfront

By: Bibi Goldstein

Everyone will get something out of The Waterfront. For the local business owners, it’ll be brand new buildings and more customers; for foodies it’ll be the public market; for children it’ll be the cleaner Seaside Lagoon; and for experienced bike enthusiasts – or novice riders like myself – it will be the increased coastal access and improved bike paths.

I love riding my bike around on the weekends. I have routes that I enjoy, but the path along the waterfront is not one of them. When you get to the waterfront, part of the path goes through the parking structure. With children running around and the structure falling apart, I never feel comfortable going through there.

The Waterfront will solve all of those problems and more.

One of The Waterfront’s components is the reconnection of Pacific Avenue to improve traffic flow for cars and bikes, which means that bicyclists will no longer be required to pass through the parking garage on their route. Another major component is the 20-foot wide public boardwalk that runs parallel to the coastline, and a new pedestrian drawbridge that will finally connect the north and south ends of the site so you can easily get from one side to the other.

Bicyclists will have the opportunity to take the fast route along Pacific Avenue, or the slower route along the boardwalk. Not only will there be more ways to travel by bike, but without the parking structure in the way and with much of the site being raised four feet to accommodate rising sea levels, the views will be better than ever.

The current layout of the Pier and Harbor area allows access to only about 84 percent of the coastline; The Waterfront’s design makes the coast 100 percent accessible, and adds nearly 1,000 feet of accessible shoreline.

Right now I just bike along the waterfront on my way to my destination; once complete, The Waterfront will be my destination. I can picture myself dropping my bike off at the bike valet, grabbing some food from the public market and enjoying the view as I take a well-deserved break.

I encourage you to learn more about The Waterfront for yourself and see what about it excites you the most!

Take a Mindful Minute

Have you wanted to try meditation, but can’t find the time — or motivation — to do it on your own?

Join Beach Cities Health District for a free monthly mindfulness drop-in starting Wednesday, July 6 at 5:30 p.m.

Mindfulness is paying attention in the here and now with a quality of openness, curiosity and kindness. Being mindful isn’t about achieving a particular feeling or removing specific thoughts. It’s about paying attention to your present moment experience — which includes all the thoughts, feelings, sensations and sounds — with an open mind.

At first, when you practice mindfulness and meditation you might not immediately feel its impact or know how it will benefit you. However, over time and with practice, many find that through mindfulness they gain more clarity about circumstances in their life and they are better able to handle stress at home and in the workplace.

Other benefits of mindfulness include:

• A strengthened immune system and physiological responses to stress and negative emotions.
• Improved social relationships with family and strangers.
• Reduction of stress, depression and anxiety and increased well-being and happiness.

Take 30 minutes to downshift and practice mindfulness techniques the first Wednesday of each month at 5:30 p.m. in Beach Cities Health District’s Chapel (1st Floor, 514 N. Prospect Ave in Redondo Beach). The sessions will be led by trained Beach Cities Health District staff. No prior experience with meditation or mindfulness is required.

Discover other community mindfulness opportunities at bchd.org/mindful. Questions? Call Tiana Rideout at 310-376-3426, ext. 139.

housing won’t be built by imposing requirements on water or waste water districts to serve certain communities first.

INCREASED LABOR COSTS

SB 878 (Leyva; D-Chino) Mandated Scheduling Require-ment — Eliminates worker flexibility and exposes employ-ers to costly penalties, litigation, and government enforce-ment, by mandating employers in the retail, grocery, or restaurant industry, including employers who have hybrid operations that include a retail or restaurant section, to pro-vide a 21-day work schedule and then face penalties and litigation if the employer changes the schedule with less than 7 days notice, even when the change is at the request of the employee. Failed Deadline; Senate Appropriations Committee 05/27/16.

SB 1166 (Jackson; D-Santa Barbara) Imposes New Mater-nity and Paternity Leave Mandate — Unduly burdens and increases costs of small employers with as few as 10 employ-ees, as well as large employers with 50 or more employees, by requiring 12 weeks of protected employee leave for ma-ternity or paternity leave, and exposes all employers to the threat of costly litigation. Failed passage in Assembly Labor and Employment Committee 06/22/16.

MERITLESS LITIGATION

SB 899 (Hueso; D-San Diego) Increased Frivolous Litiga-tion — Drives up consumer costs and increases frivolous liti-gation similar to the disability access lawsuits in California, by prohibiting a retailer or grocery store from discriminating against a person on the basis of gender with the price of goods and subjecting them to a minimum $4,000 of dam-ages for each violation. Held in Assembly Judiciary Commit-tee, 06/28/16. ■

“W hen I joined the Redondo Chamber of commerce 4 years ago, I was a brand new business and didn’t know anything about chambers or networking, or how to grow my business. Through my participation in the chamber, I have tripled my business and feel like I have grown leaps and bounds as a business person. They invited me into a program called Leadership Redondo which has completely changed my life. Now I have great knowledge about our city, new wonderful contacts, and connections to business people all over the South Bay to both refer and be referred. Marna Smeltzer the president is helpful and always available to help find new ways to support my business. Kudos to the chamber, and I would welcome new members to take advantage of this wonderful chamber and all the opportunities they provide for local businesses.”
