The Redondo Beach Chamber of Commerce and Visitors Bureau is pleased to congratulate Mayor-Elect Bill Brand, Councilman-Elect District 2 Todd Lowenstein and Councilman-Elect District 4 John Gran.

Mayor-Elect Bill Brand had an impressive victory over five mayoral candidates. He was able to win the election outright and avoid a runoff. The Chamber is excited to work with Mayor-Elect Brand on creating a strong local economy for those who live, work and play in Redondo Beach.

District 2’s next councilman, Todd Lowenstein is a former school board member for Redondo Beach Unified School District (RBUSD). We are excited to work with him on continuing the promotion of a world class public school system. District 2 represents the pier and waterfront and is a major area for tourism in Redondo Beach. We look forward to partnering with Councilman-Elect Lowenstein to enhance the experience of all of Redondo’s visitors, including the ones that live here.

Newly elected District 4 Councilman John Gran was supported by the Redondo Beach Chamber of Commerce Candidates PAC. John has been on the Chamber of commerce’s board of directors and has served as treasurer for the last two years. He is a small business owner who has tirelessly advocated for the entire business community citywide. He will be a great addition to city council and although we are sorry to lose him on our board of directors, we are happy to have him on the city council and proud of his accomplishment.

On behalf of the Redondo Beach Chamber of Commerce & Visitors Bureau, we congratulate you on your impressive election victory. We look forward to working closely with you and our local business community to support your leadership of our great City, as we continue to make Redondo Beach the best place to live, work, and play!
Paid Family Leave (PFL) is an unfortunately named law, and frequently misunderstood. It is not a leave; it is a wage replacement program.

In the scenario above, yes—the employee is entitled to apply for PFL, but there is no job protection because he doesn’t qualify to take the protected leave.

The protected leave is authorized by the federal Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA) and California Family Rights Act (CFRA), which require that the employer have 50 or more employees.

FEWER THAN 50 EMPLOYEES

If an employer has fewer than 50 employees, it is an internal call whether to grant time off. If time off is granted, the employee can apply for PFL. It is processed as payment through the Employment Development Department (EDD) for up to six weeks, and is a partial wage replacement. Eligible workers can receive up to 55% of their previous weekly earnings. Employees can apply for PFL for other reasons also: to care for a seriously ill family member (child, parent, parent-in-law, grandparent, grandchild, sibling, spouse, or registered domestic partner) or to bond with a new child as above (including newly fostered and adopted children).

SETTING PRECEDENT

Employers need to be aware that if they do grant time off when the employee is not entitled to it by law, the action can set a precedent. Often employers grant the time off due to it being a slow time of the year for the business, or other conditions. If these factors can be proven objectively, the danger of precedent might not be a problem.

If, however, employers grant the time off simply because they like the employee and want to help him out, the next time someone asks to “take” PFL, it might be required. And if the leave is denied, that employee could claim discrimination.
Measure C Passes in March Election: What Now?!

The revitalization of the Redondo Beach Waterfront became uncertain with the passage of Measure C on March 7th. Ballot box zoning is not a new phenomenon in local Redondo Beach elections. This time, there is an uncertainty to what the final result will be.

Although the voters passed Measure C, the measure still needs the blessing of the California Coastal Commission and the likelihood of that is unknown at this time. The waterfront has been a highly contested item for many years. There is no doubt that something must be done with the crumbling infrastructure at the Redondo Beach Waterfront area. How that is done has been hotly debated.

As the City of Redondo Beach seemed to be moving forward with the proposed CenterCal project, it remains to be seen if Measure C will stop that plan from going forward. The Chamber will remain involved in the conversation on how to redevelop and revitalize our waterfront.

It is not only a major attraction for visitors helping to fuel a thriving tourism industry in Redondo Beach, but it also is a quality of life factor and major tax base that funds city services for our residents.

The Chamber has been very supportive of the waterfront revitalization for over 20 years. Only time will tell if the CenterCal project sees the light of day, but we remain hopeful that progress will be brought to the Redondo Beach Waterfront soon.

Paying Nonexempt Employees on Salary Basis Poses Risks for Employer

If I change a salaried exempt employee to salaried nonexempt, may that employee’s salary be less than the minimum threshold for a salaried exempt employee as long as I pay any overtime according to California labor laws?

Yes, you may establish a nonexempt salary level that is lower than the salary threshold for exempt executive, administrative and professional employees, which is two times the state minimum wage.

RISKS TO CONSIDER

The real question is whether setting a salary level is a good choice considering that a nonexempt employee is paid by the hour and not by a pre-determined minimum salary.

Because the employee is still nonexempt, all laws that apply to hourly nonexempt employees also apply to salaried nonexempt employees, making a pre-determined set salary a very difficult practice to implement. The nonexempt salary must be established high enough to meet the applicable minimum wage rate in each pay period, such that it covers all hours worked within that pay period. Note that this rule is applicable to local minimum wage rates too.

Since nonexempt salaried employees are subject to the wage-and-hour laws, the employer must pay overtime, keep accurate time records, and provide meal and rest periods in accordance with the Industrial Welfare Commission (IWC) orders and the California Labor Code.

Because the employee is receiving a salary, compliance with these laws often is overlooked, resulting in labor claims for overtime and meal-and-rest break premiums. Moreover, these requirements make it difficult for a nonexempt employee to be paid on a salary basis because these variables may change the amount of pay owed in any one pay period.

In addition, salaried nonexempt employees’ pay stubs must show all hours worked and applicable hourly rates. Pursuant to Labor Code Section 515(d), the hourly rate is 1/40th the weekly salary. If, however, the salary agreement establishes a workweek of less than 40 hours, 35 hours for example, the hourly rate is 1/35th of the weekly rate.

SALARY GUIDANCE

Although it is extremely risky to pay a nonexempt employee on a salary basis, the Division of Labor Standards Enforcement policy manual has provided the following guidance regarding salaried nonexempt payment.

ChamberMail is back for the third year, a marketing program targeting new residents in our market area. As you read this, new residents are deciding where to do business. Is your business in front of them?

Part of the reason you joined the Chamber was to find new customers for your business. Well, here’s your chance!

CHAMBERMAIL MARKETING PROGRAM:
NOTHING EVEN COMES CLOSE!

ChamberMail is the way it ought to be – an attractive mailer representing the Chamber in the community and highlighting its members by reaching a buying audience second to none. Come discover why Chambers nationwide are now providing their consumer driven members a monthly opportunity for new business with ChamberMail — This is the program you’d invent yourself if you had the time and resources!

If you would like more information please contact Cathy Jones at 800.824.6858

CHAMBERMAIL OFFERS THESE BENEFITS:

• Targeted - Mass advertising (TV, print, radio, etc.) can be expensive and isn’t always an option for small businesses. But Direct Mail can focus on a smaller group of individuals who are more likely to respond to your offer, giving you more bang for your buck.

• Personal - With ChamberMail, you can address your customers by name, speak to them individually, and appeal to their interests. And when customers feel that you understand their needs, they’re more likely to respond. In fact, 55 percent of consumers “look forward” to discovering the mail they receive.

• Flexible - From letters to postcards to brochures, there is a large variety of inexpensive and easy formats you can use to create your direct mail campaign. You can add impact by including a special offer or free sample in the envelope.

• Tangible - ChamberMail allows you to physically place your message in your customers’ hands and encourage interaction. Along with an engaging message, you can make an unforgettable impression by incorporating elements that actively involve the customer, like stickers, and coupons.

• Measurable - ChamberMail is one of the few media channels that gives you the ability to track the success of your campaign. It’s as simple as counting the inquiries you received or counting the number of coupons redeemed. By tracking and analyzing your results, you’ll see what’s working and can make adjustments to future mailings if needed.

• Easy and cost-effective - You don’t have to be a Direct Mail expert with a big budget to advertise with ChamberMail. Compared with electronic media and costly media mixed campaigns, Direct Mail is easily the winner.

If you’re a member of the Chamber of commerce you can take advantage of this deal, you will save even more time and money.

the WATERFRONT redondo beach
CenterCal Thanks You for Your Support!

Like many of you, we were disappointed that Measure C passed during last month’s election. However, it is clear that thousands of our neighbors, business owners and local leaders still want to see our harbor and pier revitalized.

Despite the outcome, it is likely that The Waterfront will still move forward. We are as committed as ever to working with the community to revitalize the Redondo Beach waterfront and pier.

While the vote on Measure C may not have gone our way, let’s not forget the progress made with your tremendous support: Project approval from the Redondo Beach Harbor Commission Denial of the appeal to the Redondo Beach City Council The unveiling of the 3D model and opening of the Waterfront Information Center Lease agreement approval from the Redondo Beach City Council.

All of this has put us in a position to move forward with revitalizing the waterfront. None of these successes would have been possible without you and your fellow supporters coming together to rally behind The Waterfront. You have had an enormous and positive impact on the community over the past three months.

We are so proud of the huge coalition of residents, community organizations, local businesses and others who came together to rally behind No on Measure C. Thank you to everyone who phone banked, walked door-to-door, put up a yard sign, talked to neighbors, and most importantly, voted no yesterday. Every action you took made a difference. And we will continue to take action – together. We will continue to work toward approval from the California Coastal Commission. We will continue to do everything we can to turn The Waterfront into a reality, because you deserve it.

We encourage you to stay active in the political process as you have done over the past few months, and to stay with us on our project journey. There are many questions about the impact that Measure C will have on The Waterfront. More details will come shortly, and as always, please reach out if you have any questions.

Thank you again for everything you have done to support The Waterfront, and we look forward to seeing what the future holds for our community. Sincerely, Fred

Why You Need an Advance Directive, and Why Now is the Time

The most expensive medical treatments are those we don’t want.

If you had a serious illness or accident, and were unable to speak for yourself, would your loved ones know your wishes for care? National Healthcare Decisions Day in April offers an opportunity to start having the conversations most of us are not having. The occasion aims to help people across the United States understand the value of advance healthcare planning. And for 2017, National Healthcare Decisions Day will be a weeklong event, from April 16 to 22.

A good place to begin advance care planning conversations is to complete an advance directive, and give copies to your loved ones, doctor and your hospital. You can fill out and print an advance directive from this link: http://www.providence.org/-/media/files/ihc/advance-directive.pdf?la=en

Most of us have strong feelings about care through the end of life and how we want to die. But most of us also have not discussed our wishes with our doctors or loved ones. That means we may not receive the care we want at the end of our lives.

Advance directives allow you to appoint a person to represent your health care wishes if you are unable to speak for yourself.

A willingness to talk about illness, caregiving, dying and grieving can lead to much better end-of-life care. Here are some statistics to help get the conversation started:

1) 90% of Americans think it’s important to talk about wishes for care through the end of life.

2) 30% actually speak with a loved one about wishes for treatment and care.

3) 82% of people say it’s important to put their wishes for treatment and care in writing.

4) 23% have actually put their wishes for treatment and care in writing.

100% of us will eventually die.

Beach Cities Memory Care Community

When living at home is no longer an option for a loved one it doesn’t mean that their days at home are over. All it means is that it’s time for a different home. Comfort, respect and dignity are all important aspects in maintaining quality of life when living with memory impairment. This in mind, our approach to memory care facilities is not to make them like a home, but to make it a resident’s home fully and completely. Care from a skilled, compassionate staff in a warm environment forms the foundation of our mission to enrich the lives of residents and their families, making Silverado much more than just assisted living.

When you take the time to tour a Silverado Memory Care Community you’ll see the difference right away:

PROGRAMS UNIQUE TO SILVERADO

- Nexus, an innovative evidence-based program for early stage residents combining science and social engagement.
- Industry-leading dementia care certification program for associates
- Access any time – no visiting hours to tell you when you can see your loved one
- Meals for family members at no extra charge – we love family dining!
- Daily housekeeping and laundry services
- Gourmet food – come and see what we mean!
- Pets in-residence, gardens and walking paths – stimulating, secure leisure-time activities
- Part-time Flexible and Overnight respite care to help home caregivers avoid burnout (available on a location-by-location basis)
- Skilled relocation teams to help residents moving in from distances

Located just a half mile from the ocean in Redondo Beach, near Manhattan Beach and Palos Verdes, Silverado Beach Cities is more than just assisted living, it is specialized memory care.

Many assisted living providers have similar amenities, including gourmet food, engagements, social events, pets and even clinical staff, but Silverado’s focus and experience makes a world of difference. We have been leading the way in memory care for 20 years. The best way to see the Silverado difference is to experience it, call us today and schedule a tour (424) 257-6418.

"When I joined the Redondo Chamber of commerce 4 years ago, I was a brand new business and didn’t know anything about chambers or networking, or how to grow my business. Through my participation in the chamber, I have tripled my business and feel like I have grown leaps and bounds as a business person. They invited me into a program called Leadership Redondo which has completely changed my life. Now I have great knowledge about our city, new wonderful contacts, and connections to business people all over the South Bay to both refer and be referred. Marna Smeltzer the president is helpful and always available to help find new ways to support my business. Kudos to the chamber, and I would welcome new members to take advantage of this wonderful chamber and all the opportunities they provide for local businesses."

Networking Tip
OF THE MONTH

Start by offering praise, not requesting help. Unless you have a mutual contact that is putting you in touch for a specific reason, it’s best to avoid asking for anything when you meet for the first time. Don’t ask for favors, for promotion, for advice, or even to meet up for lunch or coffee. Simply start by offering a short compliment. After they respond to this initial contact, you can begin moving things towards a more lengthy meeting.
