Redondo Beach Chamber PAC Votes on Endorsements

For the past 10 years, the Redondo Beach Chamber of Commerce’s active and engaged Government Relations Council (GRC) has been supporting our local business community by helping to shape public policy. In advance of the March 7 election, the Chamber PAC Board members interviewed candidates for the Redondo Beach city offices to determine their recommended endorsements. They believe that these candidates will do the best job for our local business community and for the continued viability and future success of the City. The PAC Board voted to endorse the following three candidates for the upcoming city election.

Mayor Steve Aspel

The Chamber supports the reelection of Steve Aspel, a proven leader with a successful track record and whose leadership balances the needs of the City with the concerns of residents and businesses. Redondo Beach needs a Mayor who is known for facing and making difficult decisions that ensure the financial viability of the City for generations to come.

District 1 – Councilmember Martha Barbee

City Councilmember Martha Barbee has assumed this position and demonstrated her leadership qualities. She has contributed greatly to the leadership needed to continue guiding the City in attaining responsible economic progress, supporting essential city services, and to helping to continue to build our local economy.

District 4 – Business Owner John Gran

The PAC endorses local business owner and community leader, John Gran. An active member of the Chamber of Commerce for many years, John Gran currently serves as Treasurer. A graduate of the Chamber’s Leadership Redondo program, he has served as President of the North Redondo Beach Business Association since 2014. He is a small business owner and currently serves as

Chair of the Board

Chamber Plans an Active 2017

2017 is a year of great potential for Redondo Beach. The Redondo Beach Chamber of Commerce is excited about our many plans to serve our local businesses and enliven our community in 2017. In addition to organizing key events for the City, the Chamber will work to advance public policy in ways that will benefit our members and the larger business community.

In the election taking place next month, the residents of Redondo Beach will vote for mayor and three City Council district seats, and also decide via a ballot measure whether or not to restrict revitalization efforts for the Redondo Beach Waterfront, Galleria, and other major redevelopment corridors of opportunity.

Representing you, the City’s residents and business owners, the Chamber’s Government Relations Council (GRC) will continue to monitor changes in state and federal policy that could affect our local business climate in Redondo Beach. We will support every and all efforts to advance the progress of critical revitalization projects for the City that are projected for implementation in 2017.

The Chamber is again hosting the popular annual events in a busy February as we begin the new year. The Super Bowl 10k, sponsored by Kaiser Permanente, will take place on February 5. On February 24, the Redondo Beach State of the City address will be presented by Mayor Steve Aspel. The State of the City presents a look back at the previous year and an insightful roadmap for what to expect in the year ahead. We are excited to hear what the Mayor will have to say about the City Council’s agenda for 2017.

Don’t miss out on the action in a busy and important year. Stay tuned for the Chamber’s activities—this year there will be much “More to Sea” in Redondo Beach.

Redondo Beach Chamber of Commerce Opposes AB 5. If Passed, Bill Will Hamper Effective Workforce Management

In a recent alert, the California Chamber of Commerce called AB 5, a statewide law sponsored by Gonzalez Fletcher, D-San Diego and Karla, D-San Jose, a “job killer.” The CalChamber warned that the bill will hurt small businesses and job seekers. AB 5 mandates small employers with as few as 10 employees must offer additional hours of work that become available to all employees who have the skills and experience to perform the work, before hiring a new employee, temporary employee, or contractor. It also exposes employers to multiple threats of costly litigation for technical violations that do not cause an employee any harm.

A CalChamber analysis finds the bill limits employers’ ability to effectively manage their workforce to address both consumer and employee requests. “The bill will create unnecessary delays and burdens on small employers to accommodate employee and consumer demands, subject employers to costly fines and multiple avenues of litigation for technical violations that do not actually result in any harm to the employee, limit an employer’s ability to communicate truthful information, and reduce job opportunities for the unemployed,” said the alert.

AB 5’s mandate for small employers to offer the additional hours of work to qualified current employees before looking outside the business creates a host of complications and concerns, including:

If an employer has facilities in different parts of the state, AB 5 mandates the employer to offer additional hours of work to employees in facilities where the employee does not work.

AB 5 mandates an employer must contact each employee who has the skill and experience to perform the work required, even though that employee may have explicitly told the employer: a) the employee is not interested in additional hours of work; b) the employee is specifically unavailable on the day/time the additional hours are available; or c) while the additional hours of work at that time may not require overtime compensation, the additional hours will require the employee to work overtime, increasing the cost to the employer.

AB 5 fails to indicate what an employer actually has to do to satisfy the “offer” requirement of additional hours. Does the employer have to personally contact each employee?

The Redondo Beach Chamber of Commerce is strongly opposed to ballot Measure C that would place restrictions on the development known as the Waterfront Revitalization Project and cost residents millions of dollars in taxes.

Why is Measure C wrong for Redondo Beach?

Measure C will cost residents $200 million in additional taxes. According to a financial impact study commissioned by the City of Redondo Beach, the City and you, the taxpayers, will have to pay $200 million in Pier and Harbor capital infrastructure costs.

Measure C will cost the City and you, the taxpayers, $600,000 - $1.5 million in annual operating costs to replace the Seaside Lagoon water feature. This much-needed improvement is already included, and paid for, the current revitalization efforts.

Measure C calls for an enormous, $10 million boat launch facility to be constructed that is adjacent to hotels and existing restaurants, resulting in environmentally unsound surface parking. As part of the Waterfront revitalization plan that has been approved, there is a new, $6 million boat launch facility near the Harbor Patrol.

A vote against Measure C is a vote for 11 acres of new open space, new amenities such as restaurants and shops, and free recreational and swimming access for residents and visitors. These would provide an estimated additional $6 million in revenues to the city to support essential services and promote a top-notch quality of life for our community.

NO on Measure C

Measure C – Opposing this measure will save residents $200 million in additional taxes

The Chamber of Commerce will host the Annual State of the City Breakfast, presented by the Honorable Mayor Steve Aspel, on Friday, February 24, at the Crowne Plaza Redondo Beach & Marina Hotel.

Mayor Aspel will present a snapshot on City’s financial status, strategic plan, business and community partnerships, and more.

According to Redondo Beach Chamber Past Chair of the Board, Michael Jackson, “The State of the City Address is the single most important overview of the past, present and future of Redondo Beach.”

Check in time begins at 7:00 A.M. Please contact the Chamber at (310) 376-6911 or www.redondochamber.org for ticket.

January 13 saw the kick-off for the 2017 Leadership Redondo program, which aims to develop effective community leaders who will strengthen and transform the community.

The new class met for an all-day orientation and training meeting at Bluewater Grill, where they learned and laughed with Leadership Trainer & Facilitator Kathleen Terry and Program Coordinator Dinah Lary. Several Alumni attended the morning session to make presentations about the Leadership Redondo program and what it meant to them.

The Leadership Steering Committee selected the members of the 2017 group based on each individual’s:

- Expressed desire to serve the community
- Demonstrated prior volunteer and or leadership involvement in Redondo Beach
- Demonstrated interest in/willingness to understand the Redondo Beach community, and
- Demonstrated desire for professional and personal growth.

Each participant will attend one full-day meeting every month through October of 2017. Each of these meetings are themed field trips to experience and learn first-hand about Redondo Beach’s community services and meet, interact with, and learn from civic and municipal leaders.

Class members will take part in an overnight retreat, as well as a special project to benefit the community, chosen by the group, for development and completion the following year.

The professional and personal growth began at the first meeting, where participants from many different facets of the city and community learned about themselves, their communication styles, and each other, focusing on their strengths and developing a vision.

Leadership Redondo alumni and past and present city officials joined the Class of 2017 at the annual Alumni Welcome Reception at the end of the day. The enthusiasm was contagious, and a great time was had by all!
There are proper and improper ways of disposing of medication, and it’s essential that you follow the proper procedure in order to avoid unwanted harm to others.

Do not throw the drugs and container in the trash! They can be found by other people and can harm them, or even cause trouble for you if your name is still on the bottle.

Flushing drugs down the toilet or throwing them in the trash is not advisable, as both pose potential safety and health hazards. All medication should be disposed of in the most environmentally safe manner, which is through a venue which will ultimately incinerate the drugs. Here are some options:

TAKE YOUR UNUSED PHARMACEUTICALS TO A COLLECTION FACILITY:
- Redondo Beach hosts a twice annual “Drug Take Back Event” - the next is scheduled for March
- Both Hermosa Beach and Manhattan Beach Police Departments have secure drop boxes
- The Hyperion Treatment Plant SAFE Collection Center in Playa del Rey is open Saturday and Sunday 9:00 A.M. to 3:00 P.M.

MIXED DISPOSAL:
- Empty the contents of a medication bottle and mix them with unpalatable substances such as like dirt, kitty litter, fertilizer or used coffee grounds
- After mixing, place the mixture in a sealed plastic bag and dispose of it properly in the trash
- This allows the drugs to decompose over time, and also disperses them enough so that recovery by anyone else is highly unlikely

Important: Be sure to remove the label off from the medication container and discard it.

It is not difficult to properly dispose of medications; it just takes a little bit of diligence and attention.

Healthy Reasons to Volunteer Year Round

As you continue on your personal journey of development, consider adding a healthy dose of volunteerism to your life. Research has shown that giving back to your community and making positive differences in people’s lives reap health and wellness benefits from decreased daily stress to an increased life expectancy. Volunteering gives back so much to volunteers, including:

• A sense of purpose. Volunteerism is good for the heart, both figuratively and literally, and is linked to providing people with an enriched sense of purpose in life, according to a Harvard University study. “We know that stress, depression and anger all have negative effects on the body, especially with regard to the risk of cardiovascular disease,” said Eric S. Kim, research fellow at Harvard's T.H. Chan School of Public Health. “Satisfaction and optimism are closely linked to ... a sense of purpose.”

• Stress reduction. Researchers at Carnegie Mellon University found that volunteering helps reduce stress reduction, and there is a strong relationship between lower stress levels and key health outcomes. They found that volunteers enjoy increased feelings of wellbeing and an uplifting emotion known as “the helper's high,” which contributes to improved wellbeing and happiness.

• Increased longevity. Researchers at the University of Exeter in England analyzed data from 40 published studies, and discovered evidence suggesting that volunteers have a 20 percent lower risk of death than non-volunteers.

• Additionally, a national survey of 3,351 adults conducted by United Health Group found that 76 percent of people who had volunteered in the past 12 months reported feeling healthier as a result.

• Social connectedness. Volunteering can help you build friendly alliances within your community and widen your social circle, as well as drive positive feelings like camaraderie and connection, both of which improve overall well-being.

Get involved in a volunteer activity! There are a wide variety of meaningful opportunities available through Beach Cities Health District. Visit bchd.org/volunteer, or call (310) 374-3426 to learn more.

A Redondo Favorite, Kincaid’s Restaurant Celebrates its 18th Birthday

By Reggie Thomas, General Manager

Thank you Redondo Beach! Kincaid’s Restaurant marked its 18-year anniversary on January 25, and we deeply appreciate the loyalty of our many friends and customers, new and old, who come to enjoy seafood and steaks on the pier with ocean views, a warm and inviting dining room, patio seating and a buzzing happy hour.

Kincaid's weekend celebration dinners in March are close to being sold out, but you won’t miss the party. Come to Kincaid’s celebratory weeklong tasting. We will highlight some of our most popular dishes that had their turn on the stage in the past, as well as Kincaid’s current dishes that add new ways of preparing our favorite recipes with new twists that make them even more delicious.

Kincaid’s in Redondo Beach is part of the Seattle-based Restaurants Unlimited. Even though I’m from Ferriday, LA, I consider myself a local boy as Redondo Beach reminds me a lot of home and what I’m used to; good people and great food. I am working on year 6 as GM of Kincaid’s and couldn’t be prouder of my team and some of the exciting menus & celebrations we’ve been able to be a part of. “Every Kincaid’s brings local to life”—well, my family may be partial, but for us this Redondo Beach Kincaid’s is the greatest one of all. We’re one of the few Southern California restaurants perched just above the Pacific Ocean, and waves crash right below our patio in a relaxing serenade, making Kincaid’s patio the most idyllic venue for your birthday celebrations, romantic occasions, and special social events.

Many of our terrific employees were here at Kincaid’s opening in 1999; Sous Chef Rosa Martinez, members of our service team Lead Trainer & Supervisor Lisa Brubaker, Supervisor Janna Denhart and Dinner Server Kristy Genest. Two of our other Lead Trainers, Ulysses de la Rosa and Edgar de la Torre, have been awarded Kincaid’s highest honor, the Black Service Vision Pin for their work as leaders of our service team as well as their support of community service projects. Our culinary team is led by Executive Chef Ramon Fernandez who has been with RUI for over 30 years and has had a hand in creating many of the recipes featured in our locations across the country. Chef Ramon was also featured in the internationally syndicated cooking show “Reto El Chef” where he was the first chef to ever defeat the host, Chef Simon Buehler.

We are all blessed to be a vibrant part of this community and thank you for continuing to support us and hold us to a high standard. Our mission is to continue to offer an array of both healthy & creative choices using the freshest possible ingredients available. We look forward to the next 18 years and want to continue to live our Service Vision which is “Make Every Guest Feel Like Our Only 1”.

the Budget and Finance Commissioner. His proven ability as a leader in our community will be essential to the City being able to realize the most of our revitalization efforts in North Redondo.

Measure C - OPPOSE
The Chamber PAC has taken the position to OPPOSE Measure C. The ballot initiative would impose restrictions on development in the Redondo Beach King Harbor-Pier area. Additionally, Measure C will cost the taxpayers of Redondo Beach more than $200 million that the residents will have to pay for needed improvements in the Harbor. The revitalization of the waterfront has been in the purposeful planning stages for more than a decade. Measure C would impair our ability to continue to move forward with the plan that will preserve and protect our community for years to come.

“I joined the Redondo Beach Chamber of Commerce almost 3 years ago. It was the first thing I did after opening my local advertising businesses and this has been a very good investment for me. The Chamber always has great events each month that are well attended by local business owners. These are exactly the type of people I love to network with as they can use my services and they have services I need. I always renew my membership as the Chamber continues to provide a great Return on Investment! Thanks Redondo Beach Chamber of Commerce & Visitors Bureau!”
