CEQA Reform Essential to Chamber’s Top Priorities

The Chamber’s top priority this year is to promote the revitalization of the city’s commercial corridors. This includes the Waterfront, Galleria, Artesia Boulevard, and Pacific Coast Highway. With many obstacles that could deter these revitalization efforts from occurring, perhaps the biggest is CEQA abuse.

Recently at the South Bay Association of Chambers of Commerce, Assemblyman David Hadley acknowledged that reform that curtails the abuse of the CEQA process is key to promoting progress and updating infrastructure in the state. In his mind, taking away the anonymity of those filing CEQA lawsuits and reducing document dumping are two key measures that need to be addressed in Sacramento.

At its core, the intent of CEQA was to protect communities from environmental conditions that would negatively impact communities and allow for a process that provided citizen input. However, over time CEQA has been used as an obstruction tool for a variety of ways to derail proposed projects. No growth advocates have used CEQA to derail projects that could alter and in many cases enhance their community. Labor have used CEQA as leverage to kill projects that don’t use union contractors to do the work. Regulatory agencies have used CEQA to force more stringent regulation on projects. Even businesses have used CEQA to attempt to force their own products and technologies to be used and integrated in projects.

Redondo Beach has several major redevelopment efforts that CEQA could play a role in. The Chamber has been working for years to promote legislation that would help return CEQA to its original intent and stop the abuse of the CEQA process.

This year, we will continue those efforts and encourage our members to convey to our elected officials the importance of CEQA modernization. Finding a way to strike balance between CEQA as a project vetting tool and eliminating the ability to completely kill projects that enhance community and kill jobs through its abuse is more important to Redondo Beach than ever.
State of the Chamber

For many years membership in the Redondo Beach Chamber of Commerce & Visitors Bureau has provided access to a network of businesses; as well as information about emerging business trends and legislative issues.

The Redondo Beach Chamber of Commerce and Visitors Bureau, along with our local business members work to strengthen our local economy, support and promote the community, and advocate the interests of business. We will not support any program, nor commit any resource unless it stands up to the test of these core values of the Chamber.

The Chamber has spearheaded the important issues to better position our local businesses and local economy. It is the Chamber that has lead the efforts on the Waterfront Revitalization and worked to empower local businesses and community members who understand the value proposition this tremendous opportunity brings to our city. It was the Chamber through the Chamber PAC that boldly supported pro-business candidates in our local elections to insure common sense and progress would be the attributes of city leadership that would prevail. And it has been the Chamber that has advocated to rejuvenate our commercial corridors and enable our main street businesses to flourish and thrive in Redondo Beach not just yesterday, but today and in the future.

In addition to advocacy, the Redondo Beach Chamber offers numerous networking opportunities, along with access to ideas or products that save members money, and increase your bottom line. Bringing together local businesses and business leaders gives our entire local business community the chance to work together and collaborate in an effort to thrive. The Chamber is dedicated to helping local companies grow their business, which enhances revenues for the city of Redondo Beach so residents can enjoy the best public services in the South Bay.

Did You Know The Chamber Has A Business Resources Section Tailored to Small Business?

Chamber Offers How to Hire a Veteran Toolkit

Hiring Our Heroes is an initiative to help veterans, transitioning service members, and military spouses find meaningful employment opportunities.

Are you a veteran looking for a job? Or maybe a business looking to hire a hero?
Thousands of servicemen and women from all branches of the military are now coming home, returning to school and to the workplace, eager to start new lives and become leaders in our community.

The Redondo Beach Chamber of Commerce’s Economic Development Council, have teamed up to gather information and create a web page on the Chambers site to help veterans shift from their roles as service men and women to students and, from there, to business professionals and leaders in our community.

For resources please visit www.RedondoChamber.org and visit the How to Hire a Veteran which can be found under the the Business Resources page.

Help Put America to Work And Earn Federal Income Tax Credits

The Work Opportunity Tax Credit (WOTC) is a Federal tax credit available to employers who hire veterans and individuals from other eligible target groups with significant barriers to employment. Each year, employers claim over $1 billion in tax credits under the WOTC program. The success and growth of this income tax credit for business is beneficial for all who participate, while increasing America’s economic growth and productivity.

Are You Protecting Your Business from Cyber Threats?

A fellow Chamber member was telling me, “I received an email alerting me to a problem with my bank account. I followed the instructions, reset my password and thought all was taken care of. The next day all my money was gone and the fraud department was calling me about a breach in my account security.”

“Maybe,” I suggested, “you should have attended the Chamber’s Business Fraud & Identity Theft Workshop.”

The January 21 workshop covered topics including legal liability and compliance; how to protect your client’s data; the new chip being used in credit cards and how that affects your liability when you accept them; insurance products that protect your business if there is a security breach; and how to manage your business’ reputation if something occurs.

“One of the speakers specifically addressed the security of your personal computer and how your actions can invite in an identity thief,” I told my colleague. “I’m now on the alert for suspicious emails and have a better understanding of how to secure my internal operating systems to protect both my client’s information and my business.”

All who attended the workshop came away with valuable information. The Economic Development Committee believes there are more of our members who could gain from a better understanding of these topics and is considering an encore event.

Please e-mail Mara Santos at Santos@RedondoChamber.org if you would like to attend a future workshop on this topic and the areas of security concern you the most.

exercises over an independent contractor. It is always best to define the scope of work, stick to the scope of work, and make sure you are allowing the contractor to have flexibility and not impeding their ability to perform similar tasks for other companies. In fact, it is best to encourage them to work in a comparable capacity for someone else. Prescribing hours, controlling schedules, and impeding “independence” is a sure-fired way to find yourself on the wrong end of a decision from the Department of Labor.

If you are using independent contractors be sure to contact your legal representation to make sure you are in compliance under federal and state law. This continues to be a focus at the federal and state level and understanding how to protect yourself and your business is the most important step you can take.
The Waterfront will be a major boost to Redondo Beach’s local economy, benefiting everyone in the community.

One of the biggest beneficiaries is the City. The Waterfront will create over 2,500 jobs and more than $3 million in annual tax revenue for our city. It will result in an investment of more than $70 million in upgrading public infrastructure in critical need of repair, and more than $250 million in immediate private investment overall.

CenterCal is in active discussions with the waterfront’s beloved legacy tenants individually and understands the concept that all boats rise together; that local businesses can and will excel with the proposed waterfront project.

There are two important points to understand as part of these discussions though:

1. The project still has to be approved by the City and many other bodies, including the Harbor and Coastal Commissions. The Waterfront simply cannot begin negotiating rents because there is nothing to negotiate yet. Until the project is completed, it’s impossible to calculate those numbers.

2. Every tenant is unique in terms of how well their business is doing and what they can be expected to pay in rent in the future. Each contract needs to be carefully crafted to take into consideration current and potential earnings, so that each tenant is paying what they can afford to pay, and nothing more.

Just as CenterCal has already proven over the last few years, they will continue to be a good partner to the community and ensure that The Waterfront is a destination for all, including our local businesses.

Cheer for Children was founded in 1985 as an all-volunteer organization to help children in the South Bay. It started out with about 10 devoted volunteers and now, with community help and commitment, we have hundreds of volunteers that help at different parties and events for children.

We volunteers will continue to do the great work Pam Edwards, our founder, started with the support of generous donors such as yourselves. The volunteers that were fortunate enough to work with her in this endeavor share her commitment to helping children and families in the South Bay.

Parties are held for acutely ill children and their siblings at Harbor UCLA Hospital at Halloween and Christmas.

We have also “adopted” 2-O.H. (orthopedically handicapped) schools where we have parties for Easter, Halloween, Christmas and summer events. When money allows we take children on special field trips (fishing day at the pier) or bring fun things to them (we’ve had a mobile aquarium visit one of the schools).

We have no administrative costs as we operate exclusively with donations and volunteers. At holiday time last year we helped over 1,300 children that might not have had Christmas. They are referred to us by schools, churches, Fire Depts., and social workers. Santa was there thanks to the generosity of the community and the excellent press that we receive. Toys and toiletries (we give out over 3,000 toothbrushes) are collected through home and company parties all year round. At Christmas, we have an “Adopt a Family” Program where you can help a family or individual child with toys, clothes and/or gift certificates. Last year we helped over 130 families.

Now, more than ever, with the slower economy and raising costs, we need your help.

We have more needy families than ever. Thank you for thinking of us in the past and hopefully in the future.

Pregnancy Disability Leave Amendments Bring Poster Change for April 1

• An employee’s right to request reasonable accommodation, transfer or pregnancy disability leave.
• An employee’s obligations to provide adequate advance notice.
• The employer’s requirement, if any, that the employee provide medical certification of the need for pregnancy disability leave, reasonable accommodation or transfer.

The revised notice will be required for covered California employers beginning April 1, 2016.
